

Part of Broadway's Changing Scene

For all the world like a bombed-out area is this view of central Broadway as the crossing elimination project proceeds. Buildings between Railroad avenue and Thomas street are being razed rapidly. Wednesday traffic was detoured, because workmen were demolishing the Arace building, second from left. In the bottom photo, in conjunction with crossing, the new diversion sewer, Greenkill and Wilbur avenues, is being rushed along. The steam hammer, upper center, drives in interlocking steel shoring. The men below are putting in cross beams. (Freeman Photos)

Military Leaders Seize Power in Coup; Junta Rules

Well-Digger Dies As Rescue Comes

Dominick Atteio Kept His Courage, but 27 Hours Were Too Much

New York, May 11 (AP)—A guy with a lot of courage trapped for more than 27 hours at the bottom of a well shaft died in agony yesterday shortly after rescuers finally reached him.

Well-digger Dominick Atteio was found at the end.

But burning pain, exhaustion and the pressure of rocks and earth were more than his strong frame could stand.

Atteio, 43-year-old father of six children, died five minutes before he was lifted out of his tomb 20 feet beneath a Brooklyn garage.

Only a few times during his agonizing imprisonment did he falter in faith, hope or courage.

A hospital intern and Roman Catholic priest administered to body and soul through the long hours as rescue workers feverishly dug a trench to reach him.

Doctors said Atteio crushed, seared and half-blinded, put up an almost superhuman show of courage.

Five hundred persons, many of them with Rosaries, prayed outside during the ordeal.

Wife Becomes Hysterical

Atteio's attractive, 32-year-old second wife, Marie, became hysterical when her long vigil of prayers and tears ended in despair.

"What am I going to do without him?" she cried. "He was the most wonderful man in the world, and so brave."

A friend told her that her husband might have been blind and crippled if he had lived. "He

Estime Tries in Vain for Relection; Three Dissolve Haiti's Parliament

Port Au Prince, Haiti, May 11 (AP)—Military rulers seized the government of Haiti yesterday after almost four years on the sidelines. They came back to power after President Dumarsais Estime tried unsuccessfully to insure his own reelection.

Estime resigned and was succeeded by the same three-man military junta who threw out his predecessor in January, 1946. The junta, which had ruled the country until Estime's election in August, 1946, announced the president and his family had been placed under its "protection."

In Miami an informed source said Estime may go to Paris to live. His predecessor, Elie Lescot, found refuge after taking office yesterday, the junta dissolved Parliament, promising at the same time in a proclamation to respect Haiti's existing international agreements and to "maintain democratic practices."

The military leaders said the lower parliamentary house, the Chamber of Deputies elected last January during a government-declared state of siege, did not have the country's confidence. The chamber, which Estime's opponents charged was hand-picked by the government previously had approved a constitutional amendment permitting the president's reelection when his current term expired in 1952.

The dissolution order also applied to the Senate, whose reelection on April 13 of the reelection amendment was followed by a mob attack in which the Senate chamber was wrecked and an assault was made on the homes of

Official Says Reds Tried to Salvage Remnants of Airplane

Washington, May 11 (AP)—The United States won't be surprised if Moscow eventually produces an alleged confession from a crew member of the American navy plane lost in the Baltic April 8.

A government official in a position to know said this today on the basis of what he asserted to be American "knowledge" that Russia made prompt efforts to salvage remnants of the plane and

Secret Service Breaks Counterfeit Ring At Buffalo; Worked in 28 States, Canada

Buffalo, N. Y., May 11 (AP)—The U. S. Secret Service claimed today it had broken up a million-dollar counterfeit ring syndicate that allegedly operated in 28 states and in Canada.

A printing press and plates were seized yesterday in a raid on a house in suburban Depew. Two men were arrested.

U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, said in Washington it was probably the most important crackdown against counterfeiting in years.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said the arrest of Matthew Zioldinski, 37, and Bernard Neuner, 30, appeared to wind up the case.

More than 10 men had been arrested previously as principals in the syndicate. Sixty-four others have been charged with passing bogus bills in various cities.

Neuner, an artist for a lithographic firm, was accused of

Harley Avenue Blaze Damages Rear Part of House

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today an investigation is in progress to determine the origin of the fire which damaged the rear of a building at 23 Harley avenue early this morning.

The blaze, discovered at about 1:30 a. m., started in the lower rear section of the structure which had been vacated by tenants in preparation for completion of sale of the property by Henry Rockwell to the A. R. Newcomb Oil Co.

The chief said he was also investigating origin of a blaze which damaged the upholstery of a car parked in a driveway one house removed from the fire.

Called at 1:31 a. m., firemen were summoned by an alarm from Box 1611 at Washington and North Front street at 1:31 a. m. Willywick, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Industrial Cuts Are Followup to Strike

New Plan: Allies May Get Bombs

Washington, May 11 (AP)—U. S. military officials are considering the idea that this country should arm its North Atlantic allies with atomic bombs.

Discussions are in the preliminary stage, and the military authorities are still far from a recommendation on which the President might base a proposal to Congress.

The idea of placing atomic bombs within reach of Britain, France and other allies is being explored thoroughly, however, and military arguments are developing both for and against it.

Advocates contend that some way must be found to arm western Europe faster and cheaper than is possible with conventional weapons.

They argue that the job must be done in two years, the earliest time by which it is estimated Russia may have a stockpile of atomic bombs adequate for a major blow in an atomic war.

New Concept Needed

The proposal for A-bomb sharing, friends of the idea say, calls for a revolutionary concept of western defense. This concept calls for replacing many expensive ground troops in Europe with bombing groups supplied with large arsenals of light weight atom bombs.

Advocates say such a plan could be put into effect quickly and at far less cost than conventional defenses, on which they argue Russia would like to see the west spend its resources.

The necessity of atomic supplies also might deter the Russians from launching an aggressive action, they contend.

U. S. military opponents of the plan argue:

1. Atomic bombs would be safer and more certain of delivery in American hands.
2. Internal politics in some countries now allied with the west

Big Three Ponder Cold War Strategy

Electrol Gets $250,000 Loan

Electrol Incorporated, manufacturer of aircraft and industrial hydraulic devices, of this city, has obtained a seven-year loan of $250,000 from the Marine Midland Trust Company of New York, for the purpose of refinancing an existing loan from the War Assets Administration, and to secure additional working capital.

This loan was made in cooperation with the Small Business Loan Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Attorneys for the banks were Sullivan and Cromwell of New York; for Electrol, Hugh R. Elwyn of this city.

Acheson Makes Bid for Sacrifice of National Ideas

London, May 11 (AP)—The big three foreign ministers met today to draft strategy they hope will keep the cold war from exploding into a shooting war.

With an appeal from U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson to sacrifice some national interests to avoid war, the ministers seek agreement on plans to wrest initiative in the East-West conflict from the Russians.

Almost three weeks of intensive preparation by ambassadors and experts preceded the meeting of Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

While those talks are variously described as "useful" and "satisfactory" the major hope of success comes from the dramatically sudden French proposal to pool coal and steel resources with Germany and any other nations that may wish to join the combine.

Could Settle Problem

This plan could settle the number one problem of western strategy by forging a strong link between Germany and the West.

It drew from Acheson a statement that the "significance and far reaching intent" of the proposal had his sympathetic and approval. But he withheld judgment on the plan itself pending a study of details.

In a speech to the Pilgrims' Society last night Acheson called for the return of Germany to "the family of western civilization."

He said also that the United States and western Europe must sacrifice some "purely national interests" to avoid a new war.

"The Germans themselves," he asserted, "must be prepared to accept their full measure of responsibilities and the full measure of what may appear to them as risks" as they return to the western community.

200,000 Is Estimate of Rail Idle

Other Thousands Are to Feel Stoppage as Plants Curtail Their Operations

Some Trains Run Certain Struck Lines Report Freight and Passengers Carried

Chicago, May 11 (AP)—A strike by railroad firemen against four major rail systems today threatened sharp cuts in many segments of the nation's industries.

Prospects of an early settlement in the long dispute appeared dim.

The crippling walkout, which started yesterday, directly involved only 18,000 firemen. But thousands of other rail workers—maybe as many as 200,000—may be idle if there is not a quick settlement. Countless other thousands are expected to be made idle by a long strike.

Some industries felt the impact of the firemen's work stoppage immediately and started curtailing operations. Some coal mines were among the first to feel the effect of the strike called by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

A third of the country's rail passengers and a fifth of the rail freight movement was disrupted. The steep caused cancellation of service on at least five other lines. Buses and airlines reported a big increase in business.

Says Strike Effective

The union claimed the strike was "completely effective." But there were reports of trains being operated on some of the struck lines. The president of one carrier, the Southern Railway System, said "we are running an increased number of freight and passenger trains."

The union struck to enforce demands for a second fireman on multiple unit diesel locomotives and on small switch engines now operated by a single engineer. A union and one engineer now operate the big diesel locomotives.

Federal mediators in Chicago apparently at the request of the White House but no further sessions with union or carrier officials were scheduled. The union said it was ready to offer major concessions in its demands but the carriers reportedly were cool to negotiating peace talks on the proposal.

In Detroit, the nation's automotive industry appeared facing severe cuts in production.

Coal Piles Up

Coal began piling up at the mines in western Pennsylvania. The New York Central, Santa Fe and Southern operated trains on the struck lines. But the Pennsylvania did not attempt to run any trains in the struck area which is west of Harrisburg, Pa.

The Santa Fe dispatched two trains from Chicago to Los Angeles and two from Los Angeles to Chicago. The New York Central sent two passenger trains from Chicago to New York and from Chicago to Boston.

All Southern Railroad passenger service was suspended from Memphis to Chattanooga.

The Chesapeake and Ohio cancelled three trains. The New Haven Railroad suspended its through sleepers to Pittsburgh.

The Colorado and Southern Railroad service was virtually tied up in Colorado, as was Santa Fe operations. Non-striking railroad workers are not crossing picket lines.

P.S.C. Authorizes Telephone Hike; Kingston Affected

State Group Concludes Utility Is Entitled to More Revenue for Service

New York, May 11 (Special)—In a momentous decision here Wednesday, the Public Service Commission authorized new rates for telephone service rendered by the New York Telephone Company, including an increase for customers in Kingston.

The commission's opinion, based on more than 16 months of investigation and hearings, points to a vast increase in the company's cost of operations and property investments and concludes that the utility is entitled to additional revenue in order to maintain its "high standard of service to the public."

The new rates, together with the eight per cent interim increase approved June 22, 1949, are expected to provide the company with about 11 per cent of additional revenue, before taxes, over the rates generally in effect for 20 years. It will not mean, however, an average increase of 11 per cent in customers' bills, due to a doubling of coin box charges and other adjustments.

Kingston's Picture

In Kingston the picture is as follows: For flat rate business service, the new rate will be $8.50 a month, an increase of 94 cents over the present interim rate of $7.56. The original rates were $7 and those proposed by the company, $9.

In the residence category, the flat rate charge goes up 22 cents a month, becoming $4 instead of the present interim rate of $3.78. The prior rate was $3.50 and the proposed company rate, $4.25.

Local calls from coin box telephones will be increased from five cents to 10 cents throughout the company's territory. Justifying this rise, the P. S. C. says that coin box rates were not increased, regular telephone subscribers would be burdened with an additional increase of $14,000,000 a year to give the company the amount of revenue "justified by the facts in this case."

Effective in January

The new coin box charges will be effective on January 1, 1951, by which time the necessary changes in coin box equipment will be completed. The other rate changes will be operative upon the filing by the company of schedules as outlined in the decision.

Because the added coin box revenue will not be available until the end of the year, the commission will allow the company to add a surcharge of two per cent on subscribers' monthly bills until January 1, 1951.

A concession to small business establishments in Kingston and in certain other communities is made with a ruling that message rate service, as distinguished from flat rate service, is to be made available to subscribers. The message rate service will be at materially lower rates than the flat rate.

The P.S.C. points out that the petition of the telephone company for additional annual revenue of $63,450,000, calculated to produce added net income of $37,650,000, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Shopping Survey (An Editorial)

Today, and every day, shoppers in the stores of the City of Kingston will come home with some purchase, delighted that they made a good buy. It may be a hat, a dress, a suit, jewelry or any one of a limitless number of things. In each case the purchaser found in the local stores what he wanted at a price he considered right.

Kingston merchants, however, are cognizant of the fact that we live in a free economy in which competition is intense, and the awards go to the merchant who gives us the lowest price, or the best service, or the most attractive stocks of goods or the most appealing advertising. With this in mind, local merchants in an endeavor to improve their service to the public are conducting a shopping survey through the Retail Merchants Committee of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Through the cooperation of Kingston schools, students were given survey blanks which they will be asked to have filled out by one of their parents and return them to the school.

The questions to be answered cover the fields of merchandise, prices, salespeople, advertising, transportation, parking and delivery service.

All parents are asked to cooperate in this very worthwhile community project through expressions of sincere opinions. Do not neglect to fill in answers to all the questions. The forms need not be signed.

The value of this survey to both the merchants and the public is so self-evident that any hesitation to be sure to fill out the form is utterly unnecessary.

64 Laid Off

The New York Central Railroad has laid off 64 employees in the Albany area and expects to lay off another 153 tomorrow as a result of the strike by firemen.

This Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Won A Case Against A&P

As almost everyone now knows, the anti-trust lawyers in Washington have brought a civil suit to destroy A&P. They ask the courts to order the dissolution of this company.

They say that this suit is based on the fact that they won a suit against us at Danville, Illinois, in 1946.

They did. In that case, Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley made a decision against A&P.

Immediately thereafter, in a letter explaining his decision, Judge Lindley wrote:

"I have not condemned the A&P system.
I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

So, now we have the anti-trust lawyers saying that their suit to dissolve A&P is based on Judge Lindley's decision; while Judge Lindley himself says his decision could not be the basis for a suit of dissolution.

In previous ads we told you about the cases against A&P which the anti-trust lawyers lost. We promised to tell you about this case they won. Here is the story of the Danville case.

What Judge Lindley Objected To

At Danville, the anti-trust lawyers made all of the charges which they are again making against A&P today. They were substantially the same charges they had made and dropped at Dallas, Texas, after four federal judges had objected to some of them as "inflammatory." In his decision, Judge Lindley was critical of some of our activities. He threw some of the charges out of court. He did not make any decision on others.

He even took occasion to praise A&P for the efficient job of food distribution it had done. Judge Lindley said:

"To buy, sell and distribute to a substantial portion of 130,000,000 people, one and three-quarter billion dollars worth of food annually at a profit of 1½ cents on each dollar, is an achievement one may well be proud of."

"No place in the world I take it are people so well fed as in the United States. Nowhere else, I suppose, do food distributors accomplish efficient distribution at so low a margin of profit. In contrast, we are told in other nations the problem is not one of an adequate diet but one of no diet at all."

But Judge Lindley did find us in violation of the Sherman Act. He based his ruling on the dual role played by our fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, the Atlantic Commission Company, whereby that organization acted both as buying agent for A&P and as selling agent for growers.

Judge Lindley said:

"If I assume for the purpose of disposition of this case that in general the policy of A&P was to operate within the law and attribute to defendants a desire to comply with the law, there still remains the conscious, knowing adoption by all defendants of a plan of action by the Atlantic Commission Company affecting every department of A&P and every retail store which cannot be squared with the intent and purpose of the act."

In his letter explaining the decision, Judge Lindley wrote: "I have condemned their practices through the Atlantic Commission Company."

Judge Lindley imposed fines totaling $175,000. When his decision was upheld by the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, we paid the fines. This ended the case—but we did not stop there.

What We Did To Correct This

In the light of the decision, we immediately set about reviewing our activities to be sure that there could never again be any criticism of our operations.

First, the Atlantic Commission Company abandoned the dual role to which Judge Lindley objected and which he said was the basis of his decision against us.

We did this even though the Atlantic Commission Company had been licensed for many years by the United States Department of Agriculture to act as both a buyer and seller of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Atlantic Commission Company now only buys for A&P. In other words, we stopped doing the thing which Judge Lindley said put us in violation of the Sherman Act.

We made additional changes in other methods of operation which Judge Lindley had questioned at Danville, even though he did not base his decision on them.

We did even more than this!

We went down to Washington and asked the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to their new interpretation of the vague anti-trust laws.

The only answer we ever got was that we should break up this company!

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to A&P's size, they insisted that we destroy this size.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our manufacturing operations, they insisted that we get rid of our factories which produce many of the fine foods you buy at A&P.

Despite their claim that they were not opposed to our low prices, they insisted that we destroy many of the efficiencies that make these low prices possible.

In other words, they insisted upon the dissolution of A&P.

We were still trying to find out from the anti-trust lawyers what else they thought we should do to conform to the law when they filed the current suit to destroy A&P.

Why, Then, Do They Want To Put A&P Out Of Business?

Ever since this suit was filed, the anti-trust lawyers have been making damaging statements that could seriously hurt our business if they were believed by the public.

They say that we were found guilty at Danville of all the charges they are making today. This is not true. Judge Lindley did not sustain all of the charges of the anti-trust lawyers.

They say this suit is designed to enforce the law.

But A&P has clearly demonstrated its sincere desire to abide by the spirit, as well as the letter, of the law.

They say they are seeking to "enjoin" A&P from engaging in certain "alleged" practices. Actually, the whole purpose of this suit is not to "enjoin" us, but to put us out of business.

They say that this suit for dissolution is based on the decision handed down by Judge Lindley in Danville.

But Judge Lindley has said of his decision: "I have not made a finding which could be the basis for a suit of dissolution."

What, then, is the real reason why the anti-trust lawyers want to destroy this company, which for 90 years has pioneered the methods of distribution which have given the American people more good food for their money?

Veterans Advised On Leave Pay and Attending School

Many veterans who neglected to make application for Terminal Leave pay before the previous deadline for filing such applications are now able to apply for such pay as was pointed out by the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

Public Law 479, 81st Congress, enacted April 26, 1950 in Section 5 of Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946, was amended to provide settlement and compensation for leave not taken by certain members of the armed forces if application for it is not made later than June 30, 1951. Any veterans who did not receive Terminal Leave because of delay in making application previously are urged to call at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency Office at 32 Main street in Kingston or any of the branch offices in Saugerties, Poughkeepsie, Highland and Keokuk.

The agency also points out that veterans planning to attend summer school under the G. I. Bill should start making the necessary arrangements now by determining whether their certificate of eligibility is in order and if they are changing course from the Veterans Administration whether they will be required to undergo advisement and guidance.

Any veteran now attending school who expects to continue this summer in the same school and on the same course need only to register at his school. His present certificate of eligibility now on file is all that is required. However, if he intends to continue in the same course but at a different school he should apply at once for a Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility. With an application he must list the name of the new school and the name of the course.

If a veteran plans to take a different course this summer either in his present school or in another school, he must take one or possibly two steps. First he should apply for a Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility and find out from the Veterans Administration whether his new course is or is not in the same general field as his present one. If it is found to be in the same general field the Supplemental Certificate is all that is required. If, however, the course is in a different general field and his needs of a new course has been determined, he may be required to take advisement and guidance to determine his aptitude for the new course.

Any veteran who has not had any education or training under the G. I. Bill previously must apply for an original certificate of eligibility. On this application he must give the name of the school and the course. With the application he should also include a photostatic copy of his discharge papers.

As a final step to be taken, as soon as possible, the veteran should make certain that the school that he wishes to attend has room for him. It is anticipated that many summer schools will be overcrowded and are receiving more applications than they can handle. Veterans who desire assistance in the handling of any necessary applications and need assistance in any other way should apply at the Veterans Service Agency where they may also obtain photostatic copies of their discharge papers to be used with their applications.

Abbey Street Woman Injured in Car Crash

One person was injured in two slight accidents this morning. Mrs. Josephine Primo, 21, 20 Abbey street, suffered slight injuries and was treated by a doctor following a collision reported at 7:52 a. m. at East Union and Albany streets.

The injured woman was riding in a car owned and operated by Emilio Primo, Jr., 20 Abbey street, headed west on East Union street. The other car, driven by Charles E. Sutton, of Ruby, was going south on Albany street.

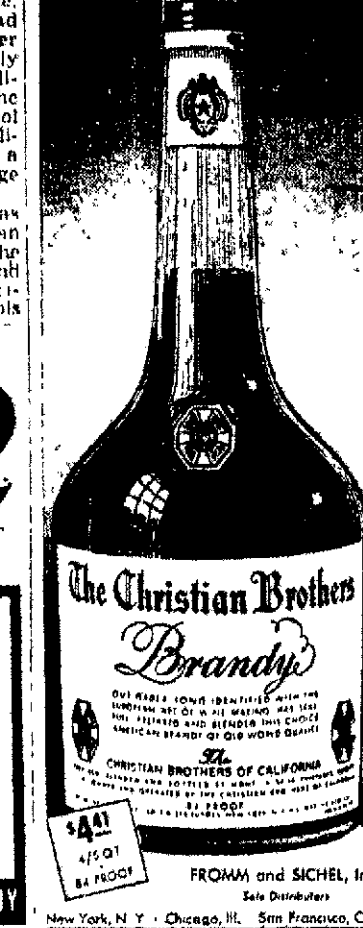

The other mishap reported at 7:15 a. m. was at Smith avenue and Elmhurst street. One car was operated by Michael Frangello, R.D., Saugerties, and the other a panel mail truck, owned by George M. Barker, 12 Henlock avenue, was driven by William Fox, of Jeddsville. Both were damaged and the Frangello car struck a pole.

Officer Grover Hoffay investigated both.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

County Folklore Interests Group

Woodstock May 11—If the many Woodstock people who attended the folklore meeting at the library Tuesday night, have not already made a pilgrimage to see the old houses in Ulster county, they will certainly be inspired to do so after hearing Kenneth Hasbrouck's discussion of the famous old landmarks. A resident of New Paltz, Hasbrouck spoke under the auspices of the Woodstock Home Bureau and was introduced by Miss Neva Shultis, Ulster county leader for folklore meetings, who is herself an authority on the subject and arranges these meetings each year as her own special project. Hasbrouck illustrated his comments with photographs by Erna R. DeWitt.

In the new candle-lit wing of the library Hasbrouck made history seem close indeed as he described the many specimens of the homes of the early Dutch and French Huguenot settlers. The names themselves, Half Moon House, Dwaakill Manor and Bruyn cast a spell bringing to life once more the colorful days of Governor Peter Stuyvesant, old legends of lost gold mines and tales of identifying Indian trails. Although complete data is available on many of the old stone houses, particularly those on Old Huguenot street in New Paltz, which Hasbrouck believes to be the oldest street in America with the original houses still standing, many houses in Ulster county are still unidentified. He is making an extensive search and hopes some day to compile a complete record of all of the historic places. Actually New Paltz was settled in 1688 but most of the stone houses built by the Dutch and French Huguenot settlers carry later dates such as the one built by Jean Hasbrouck, the Patentee, in 1712 and the Old Fort built in 1705 by the son of Louis DuBois, also a Patentee. Characteristically, the Huguenots built along the architectural lines of Normandy from which they came, while the Dutch preserved their native style, particularly noticeable in the tremendous sweep of roof for the purpose of grain storage, as exemplified by the Abraham Hasbrouck house, built in 1712, now owned by Ivai. Elise Everts, father of Alf Evers of Woodstock. About this house there is a legend that the ghost of a former hired man may be seen approaching the back door carrying an ax, accompanied by two black dogs. The house also contains a "pink room" in which two children were supposed to have been murdered. It also harbors a secret room, 6 by 4 feet, in which a man is reported to have spent the Civil War years. In the Cornelius Masten House, built in 1749, is an exquisite tile fireplace and the Beaver-Eling house, built in 1694 on Huguenot street, has a cellar kitchen and a sub-cellar. The Johannes Jensen house was the scene of a famous Indian raid. No Hasbrouck, said Hasbrouck, speaking of the old families, ever married an Eling until the last generation because of the long perpetuated feud. Only the lower story is original in the "Old Fort" in New Paltz, which was put up when the governor stipulated that a fort must be built in the village. Plans are under way, Hasbrouck reported, to restore the renowned Dutch Reformed Church on Huguenot street in the style of the early Huguenots. The present church is the third to be built on the site, the original having been of logs. Close inspection, Hasbrouck pointed out, reveals a great many variations in the stone houses in different sections. Stone Ridge, Wallkill, Lomontville, High Falls and surrounding country. The earlier structures are of rough uncut fieldstone, while the later ones were constructed of smooth tumbled stone. Almost indestructible, the old walls were put together with mud, clay, horsehair and even little hooks of wood and frequently are 36 inches thick. Most persistent of all of the legends is that of the existence of a mine dating back to the days of Peter Stuyvesant. A Pattoon did find a treasure of gold in the mountains and a ship carrying some of it is supposed to have sunk, but the mine has never been found. Another mine was left by its two discoverers to join the Revolutionary War, making it by three trees, but all trace was lost by the burning of the trees by the Indians. Every seven years a ghostly candle is reputed to burn at the entrance to the mine.

For the folklore enthusiasts there is a wealth of material available on the subject suggested by Hasbrouck. For the more hardy explorer, the most unlikely byway or lane, tangled and overgrown may lead to a once prosperous old farm with a lovely old house. The early builders sought out the springs and sheltered localities for the more casual observer. Old Huguenot street of a visit to the beautiful Shawangunk Church offers a rewarding hour in another century. This church is considered to be the most typical of the pre-Revolutionary churches.

After the meeting Hasbrouck talked informally with his audience answered questions and showed relics of old wooden pegs and nails taken from one of the houses. Refreshments were served by members of the Home Bureau, Miss Neva Shultis, Mrs. Nora Holdridge, Mrs. Daisy Montgomery, Mrs. Elizabeth Clough, Miss Bessie Stowall, and Miss Terrence Kutschbach.

New York May 11, 1939.—No Central Bureau at Washington can cope with problems of area planning and development, the annual conference of the association of State Planning and Development Agencies were told yesterday.

Donald H. Davonport, the association's newly-elected president, said variations among states in resources, climate and other factors create an almost infinite variety of local problems.

Davonport, deputy commissioner of the Division of Economic Development at Albany declared.

It is our job to know the natural resources of a locality, to plan to use them to the best of the powers, and to promote the optimum use through private enterprise. If we do our individual jobs well our American way of life will be better. Each community, each state and the nation itself will benefit.

Davonport succeeded F. A. Plummer of Harrisburg, Pa., executive

Trenton N. J. May 11 (Th.)—Jack Walsh lifted two men and an elephant four inches in a night. He did it with his back. The two men and the elephant were standing on a specially constructed platform, and the estimated gross weight was more than 3,000 pounds. Walsh got under the platform and hid to balance it as well as lift it. There were plenty of witnesses about and newsmen from Radio Station WUBD, Monroeville Pa., who detected no signs of trickery. The stunt was staged by the Hurt Brothers Circus at a benefit for a nearby Lions Club. Walsh weighs 175 pounds, stands five feet eight inches tall and says he has lifted 4,100 pounds of pig iron.

To Inspect Bills
Hartford, Conn., May 11 (AP)—Connecticut legislators had their first chance today to inspect bills drafted by their leaders to put into effect a bi-partisan plan for a limited state reorganization. Republican leaders bluntly said that they weren't guaranteeing that the House would accept the drafts, particularly one proposing an increase in the governor's staff. Other bills ready for legislative inspection would create two new departments, budget and public works, and give municipalities more home rule. The drafting of these pieces of legislation was completed yesterday during the fourth day of negotiations on the bi-partisan reorganization plan.

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management took in more than $37,000,000 from management of the public domain in 1949.

Too Many Rats, He Says

Washington, May 11 (AP)—The Senate's new crime investigating committee called its first strategy session today to map what one member described as a drive against "the rats in the meat of democracy." "There should be no directional antennae out in this investigation to limit the committee's operations," said Senator Tobey (R-N.H.). "We should go in all directions in the investigation and disclosure of the ramifications of organized crime. There are too many rats in the meat of democracy—and they must be driven out."

Police Find Boys

Police were notified at 3:02 a. m. today that two boys, believed to be runaway, were at the Adirondack Trailways bus terminal on central Broadway. Officers Walter Van Steenburgh and George Loughran found them were Charles Carter, 10, of 11 Columbus avenue, New York and LeRoy Connelly, 10, of 1974 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn. They were taken to the Volunteers of America home on Barmann avenue pending return to their homes.

Decrease Is Recorded

Albany, N. Y., May 11 (AP)—The 1,991 stock corporations chartered in New York state last month represent a decrease of 375 from the total in March. However, the total is an increase of 291 over the number for April, 1949. Stated capitalization last month totaled $16,989,228. Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran said yesterday. Of the 1,991 corporations, 1,522 were authorized to issue stock of no par value. The most popular business was real estate, with 503 new firms chartered.

Flood Death Toll Reaches 22; Crest Of Red River Near

(By The Associated Press)

Floods continued to menace parts of North Dakota, Minnesota and southern Manitoba today as the death toll in the flash floods that swept over southeastern Nebraska mounted to 22.

Search continued in Nebraska for the bodies of nine persons reported missing and presumed dead. Thirteen bodies had been recovered. As floodwaters receded, communities surveyed the damage, which was estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In Winnipeg, the flood situation appeared more serious. One-eighth of the city of some 350,000 population was under water. Muddy waters from the Red river and other streams poured out over more than 500 square miles of southern Manitoba. A train carrying 550 Winnipeg-bound refugees was marooned by a track washout near Winnipeg but rail officials said the train was not endangered.

2,000 Leave Winnipeg

More than 2,000 persons left Winnipeg in response to an official appeal for the city's 200,000 women and children to voluntarily move to less crowded points of safety. Officials were making plans for compulsory mass evacuation, if necessary. There were no casualties.

The Red river rose only 23 feet in 24 hours at Grand Forks, N. D., and City Engineer A. F. Hulteng said he "hopes this is the crest." Four National Guard planes flew over the flood area seeking isolated cases of disaster.

In northeastern Minnesota, the community of Floodwood was 75 per cent flooded by the St. Louis river. At Minneapolis City Engineer Hugo Erickson said the Mississippi river was at its highest level since 1881. However, he said the only concern immediately was for Riverside utility installations.

Seven Communities Hit

After two days of torrential rains, creeks and streams in eastern and south central Oklahoma spilled into at least seven communities and forced residents to flee their homes. The floodwaters blocked highways in 40 places. There were evacuations in the residential areas of Mayesville, Duncan and Lexington. Other towns in the flood area included Okmulgee, Haskell, Wagoner and Muskogee.

There were more showers and thunderstorms in Oklahoma and western Texas and light rain from eastern Kansas eastward across Missouri to southern Indiana. Heavy falls were reported in west central Texas.

The rest of the country had fair weather. It was warm in the southeastern and Gulf states and temperatures were mostly normal in other areas.

Certificates Filed

David A. Morrison of 331 76th street, North Bergen, N. J., has filed a certificate with the county clerk stating he is doing business at Lake Hill under the name and style of Lake Hill House.

Daniel J. Ferlutter and Patricia Craft Ferlutter of 288 Clinton avenue, Kingston, have filed a certificate stating they are doing business at that address under the name and style of Associated Advertising Agency.

Railroad Repairs

Two crews of railroad workmen were active today on and near the Broadway crossing. One group was adjusting loosened planks on the crossing and the other was relocating electric lines of the railroad in preparation for start of digging on Broadway for the underpass this summer. The lines to the station will run parallel to Daderick street from the project area and then along the line of the old trolley tunnel to the station. The crossing planks are being repaired because of considerable wet weather and because it will be some time yet before the tracks are relocated.

No Bequest for Husband

Greenwich, Conn., May 11 (AP)—The will of the late Frances Seymour Brokaw Fonda provided no bequest for her actor husband, Henry Fonda. The will, filed in probate court here yesterday, disposes of an estate of more than $400,000 in real and personal property and $3,500 in Greenwich real estate. Principal beneficiary is Mrs. Fonda's mother, Mrs. Sophie M. Seymour of Los Angeles, who receives the Los Angeles home in which she lives, $1,000 in cash, all personal effects and 60 per cent of the residual estate. Mrs. Seymour has custody of her daughter's two minor children, Jayne S. Fonda, 17, and Peter Fonda, 10, who in addition to receiving 20 per cent of the residual estate apiece, will share the remainder equally at their grandmother's death.

Law Brings $11,195

New York, May 11 (AP)—A New York state law declaring off-truck betting illegal paid off yesterday when a housewife won a $11,195 judgment against an alleged bookmaker. Mrs. Hannah S. Kartiganer of White Plains, N. Y., said her husband Harold, lost the money to Jules H. Bender in a series of bets. She said her husband assigned her the right to attempt to recover the money. A Supreme Court jury took less than 10 minutes to return the judgment. During the trial Bender said he was a businessman and not a bookmaker. He said he received the money in payment for loans.

Some Price Cuts Offset Increases in Foods Departments

(By The Associated Press)

Retail meat prices were still climbing this week, for the fourth week in a row. Beef cuts were up two to 10 cents a pound from last week-end in many places. Pork gained two to six cents and lamb was up two to four cents a pound. Veal and smoked meats showed less change.

Frying and broiling chickens eased two to four cents a pound, however, and top grade eggs were down a cent or two a dozen in several large marketing centers. There were scattered small increases in butter prices.

Several well-known brands of coffee, both vacuum and bag packed, were marked down two to three cents a pound.

Price changes on produce items were mostly downward. Tomatoes, beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, fresh corn, kale, onions, new potatoes and radishes all were a little lower or appeared headed in that direction.

Somewhat higher were lettuce, broccoli, snap beans and spinach.

Produce men said too much cold and dry weather in the Carolinas had simply reduced the lettuce crop there and prices probably would be higher than normal until the end of this month.

Pennsylvania and Maryland sent their first asparagus shipments of the season to distant markets this week, and South Carolina moved its first snap beans northward all later than usual because of unfavorable growing weather.

Canteenettes Received

Eastern markets also received their first California canteenettes this week, and initial shipments from Texas were due early next week. Canteenettes from Mexico and honeydews from Chile have been available for some time, however. Florida watermelon supplies in northern markets were increasing steadily.

Meat dealers had a variety of explanations for the continued upward trend in meat prices. Some said packers were bidding up live-stock prices, at a time when marketings were light, to keep their plants operating. The American Institute of Food Distribution said farmers are holding down shipping hogs, confident they will get higher prices until marketing of the spring pig crop starts in September. This confidence is based on good business prospects, record pork consumption and higher market prices for hogs and vegetable oils, and has been increased recently by talk about war and the possibility of a consequent price boom, the institute said.

A spokesman for a nationwide store chain said in New York demand for all meats has been surprisingly good recently. He credited the unusually cold spring weather in many sections of the country.

Coffee Prices Trimmed

Several major coffee roasters trimmed two cents a pound from their nationally advertised brands of vacuum packed coffee. The move was generally attributed to an effort to recapture sales lost as a result of consumer price resistance. Coffee sales are well below what they were before the sharp price jump last winter, and the cut this week was the third since mid-March for some roasters. The wholesale price cuts were passed along to the consumer in most stores.

At least two large store chains which do their own roasting and pack their coffee in paper bags announced their reduction.

The Dun & Bradstreet whole-sale food price index, this week climbed 1 to $5.89, highest since last August when the same level was reached. The high before that was $5.91 on Jan. 25, 1949. The latest index figure was five cents above last week and 21 cents above the year-ago week. The index represents a total whole-sale price of a pound each of 10 foods in general use.

27 Persons Taken From Tenement as Blaze Breaks Out

New York, May 11 (AP)—Thirty-five men, women and children were led to safety down firemen's ladders early today when fire broke out in a five-story Bronx tenement.

Other tenants escaped from the flaming buildings by stairways. One fireman, overcome by smoke, was treated at the scene.

The blaze broke out on the second floor and quickly swept to the roof. Firemen battled flames 25 feet high before they brought the fire under control. Considerable damage was done.

Origin of the fire was not determined immediately.

When hook and ladder and engine companies arrived at the scene, men, women and children could be seen huddled on fire escapes and perched precariously on window sills.

Firemen hastily put up 80-foot extension ladders and led juncos-tricken tenants to the street.

Police of the Alexander avenue station entered the blazing building and directed other residents down stairways and out to the sidewalk.

Firemen brought down the ladders persons who feared to descend fire escapes shrouded in smoke.

Fireman Sidney Schnipper, 33 years old, of Hook and Ladder Company 29, rescued two children from a top-floor apartment before he was overcome.

After bringing the children down a ladder, he started up to the top floor again, but was enveloped in dense smoke in the upper stories. Two firemen saw his plight and went up the ladder after him. He responded to oxygen treatment after being carried to the street.

Inflation is on the March again, says D. W. Michener, director of research for the Chase National Bank of New York. He has his eye more on the money market than the commodity pits. He sees credit expansion at an all-time high; farm prices held high by the government's export subsidies; exports above their natural level; housing boomed by federal appropriations; and easy money policies in the ascendancy.

On the other hand, Dr. Marcus Nadler, finance professor at New York's Adelphi University, says inflationary forces are no longer in the money, but says the indications are strong that further increases in commodity prices and the cost of living will be slow. Increasing costs of production are more inflationary than the federal deficit financing policies, Dr. Nadler says. But there is likely to lead to a decline in demand, followed by a deflation is lowered cost of living, you might lose in income. Some days you just can't win.

Escape by Dialect

Hong Kong (AP)—Clever use of China's varying dialects accomplished the escape from Red Shanghai of a Eurasian oil company worker. He took a train south. At Changsha the Communists detained him and asked questions in Mandarin. Chinese. "I replied in Cantonese," said the fugitive. "The Communist official couldn't understand it but did not want to admit it, so he let me get back on the train." In Canton, he was questioned in Cantonese. "I replied in Mandarin. Guards wouldn't admit they couldn't understand me, so they let me get a train to the Hong Kong border." At the border, a British policeman demanded his entry permit. "I answered in English that my father was English and my mother was Chinese, and he could shoot me if he wanted to, but I was not going back to China. He let me in."

State Employment Increase Is Shown

Albany, N. Y., May 11 (AP)—Employment in New York state seems to be on the upswing. But the big question is: Will jobs open up fast enough to take care of the increased labor force?

The Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance of the State Labor Department says the number of jobs increased and fewer persons were out of work during the first quarter than at the end of 1949.

However, the division is quick to point out that about 8,500 more persons enter the labor force each month.

In March, 6,350,000 persons were employed and 620,000, or 8.9 per cent of the labor force, were out of work.

In January, 660,000, or 9.5 per cent of the labor force, were unemployed.

Every section of the state has shown improvement since the first of the year, the division says.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

There is danger of more inflation, so it might be informative if we discussed it in this article.

Back in 1935 and '36 talk and fears of inflation were rampant. The upward revaluation of gold to $35 an ounce and the belief that "prices always follow gold" led to this general expectancy for inflation. However, inflation did not "take." You may recall that the "gold" commodity prices was the 1926 level and President Roosevelt assured the nation that he would hoist prices back up there by one means or another. Well—the price level did not get back to the 1926 level until World War 2 influences forced it up.

Prices, of course, did not stop at the 1926 level. They were held fairly firmly by the O.P.A. during the war, but when price controls were abolished prices took wings and soared. It is generally taken for granted, I think, that the war-induced inflation reached its permanent peak in 1948 and a falling price-level is anticipated.

However, from a contrary viewpoint, the Ruminator sees straws in the wind that suggest they may be a "new" inflation breeze blowing up. If it is only a "breeze" there is no danger, as it will die out. But if it should develop into even a small hurricane the economy would be in for trouble.

The forces that make inflation are still bloated. Money in circulation and bank deposits are enormous. Money is easy and credit plentiful. The public is in a spending mood. The "velocity" of money—the turn-over of bank accounts—seems to be increasing. Bank debits—checks drawn—reached an all-time high in the first quarter of 1950 (as reported by the Federal Reserve for 332 cities). A recent survey found "the people" enjoying prosperity—"consider themselves more prosperous than at any time since April, 1946."

In contrast with this "inflationary atmosphere" the more intelligent group of business managers are cautious. Businessmen and economic-minded groups have been expecting a post-war slump ever since the end of the war, in consequence, business has been managed conservatively on the whole. There has been little over-expansion or speculation in inventories. Indeed, inventories have been held down, relatively speaking, for a boom period. (During booms, inventories usually are recklessly expanded).

So, we have business "doubting" the persistence of the boom on one hand, and the public buying products hand over fist and spending money like water, on the other.

This is the set-up for an inflation: goods not in over-supply and the people in a spending mood. The late General Leonard P. Ayres, noted economist of the Cleveland Trust Company, in commenting on the inflation in France during the 1920's, wrote: "France's development of inflation illustrates the successive stages that are likely to characterize an inflationary period which begins as a business boom based on confidence and accompanied by credit expansion and develops into a wild upswing of prices stimulated in part by spending actuated by fear."

General Ayres stressed the influence of government deficits (France was running in debt heavily). A deficit engenders fear, of course, but in our present situation it seems to me that there is the even stronger psychological stimulus of high wages, pensions, and old-age security—coupled with the Keynesian anti-depression theory of loose-money. Labor unions and the administration together have fostered the idea of spending. Let us note President Truman's speeches on his western tour. They will undoubtedly spread the thoughts of prosperity and the idea of "everything's all right" among the crowds that turn out to hear him (and listen to him over the radio).

The stage is set for another inflation whirl. Money is being poured out in all directions. The administration, and its advisers subscribe to the inflationary sentiment. Acting Chairman Keyserling of the Council of Economic Advisers is a thorough Keynesian—his name is even similar. If the boom spirit is further stimulated—as it seems it may be—prices may start another long climb upward. An upward start has already commenced in metal prices and other basic raw materials (lumber, building materials, wool, wood pulp, etc.). There are enough signs to make us very observant of public psychology over coming weeks. A hyper-inflation may conceivably be the next phase of the economic cycle in the place of the usual slump that one expects to follow the period of boom.

Reilly Pleads Innocent To Charge of Perjury

New York, May 11 (AP)—A suspended acting police lieutenant pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of perjury in an investigation of gambling and possible police graft in Brooklyn.

The defendant, James F. Reilly, 43, was held in $2,500 bail by Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz.

The indictment, handed up earlier in the day, charged that Reilly gave false testimony before a grand jury about his financial dealings. He was suspended from the force after the indictment.

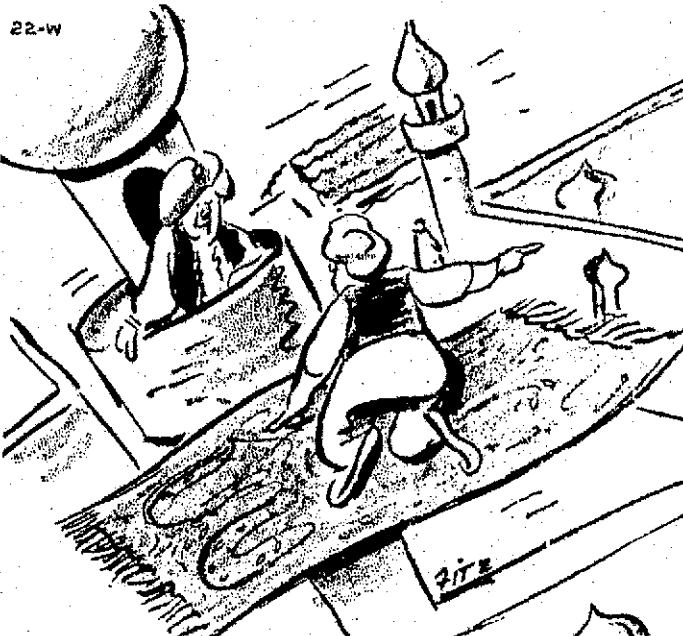

In a companion gambling investigation in Manhattan, General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen refused yesterday to cut the $100,000 bail under which Harry Richards was held as a material witness.

Authorities say Richards, a convicted bookmaker, served as a financial "front" for multi-million dollar Bookie Frank Erickson. Erickson's office was raided recently by district attorney's men, and alleged gambling records seized, but no charge has been placed against him.

Chief City Magistrate John M. Murtagh said yesterday that two lawyers who handled hundreds of gamblers' cases in the past several years have withdrawn voluntarily from the practice.

Murtagh, who declined to identify the lawyers, said they quit the practice after he had questioned them. Murtagh said he is continuing his investigation "to eliminate any possibility of lawyers representing organized groups of gamblers."

The first ice sold in the U. S. was cut from frozen lakes and cost as much as $1 per pound.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 to 1 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

Housewives will be interested to know Creamo Margarine's popularity has grown faster in the past few years than the combined average of all other brands. This is due to the fact that Creamo is the only margarine made with cream.

In taste tests between Creamo and the most expensive type bread spreads, participating school children chose Creamo Margarine 5 to 1.

Users say Creamo's creamy-rich flavor is so distinctively delicious, the first taste is noticeably more satisfying than ordinary spreads. Not only does Creamo taste better — it's more economical, too. The extra flavor goes so much farther than ordinary spreads.

Two Clues Found In Student's Case

New York, May 11 (AP)—Two new clues were unearthed today in the case of Alice Lindabury, 22-year-old Vassar College senior missing since last Saturday.

Police said a young woman answering the description of the Princeton, N. J., student checked baggage at the Hotel Roosevelt at 2 p. m. Saturday and called for it three hours later without checking in at the hotel. The luggage bore the names "Lindabury" and "Moore."

The same evening, between 6 and 9 p. m., a young woman answering Miss Lindabury's description was seen in the cocktail lounge of the Hotel Blithmore. An eight state police alarm was issued for Miss Lindabury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Lindabury, after she disappeared while on her way home from college for the week-end. Her father is an associate editor of Crowell-Collier publications in New York.

Say Bankers Involved

Moscow, May 11 (AP)—Pravda today attacked France's plan to pool her steel and coal production with western Germany's as a proposal made "under the dictation of American bankers." The Communist party newspaper, in a Paris dispatch, compared the French plan with the signing of the armistice agreement with Hitler by Marshal Henri Petain. It said France was being sold out but "the patriotism of all honest people in France will win out."

Local Airport Is Recommended by Federal Bureau

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has listed 107 places in New York state at which it believed airports should be built or improved at an estimated cost of $41,600,000, according to The Associated Press, which reports that the Washington bureau favors a new port on the Kingston-Saugerties road, near the city.

The exact location of the airport here was not designated in the report, which lists others in this area as at Ellenville, Liberty, Middletown, Monticello, Newburgh, Peekskill and Poughkeepsie, with a seaplane base in mind at the latter city.

The 107 state sites are part of a national total of 5,093. The list, issued yesterday, required annually under the Federal Airport Act of 1916, is based on the C.A.A.'s estimates of demands for air service in the next three years.

The C.A.A. emphasized that the listing did not necessarily mean an airport would be built or improved at each place. The locations chosen for actual work will be selected, the C.A.A. said, on a basis of greatest need and on the amount of money Congress will appropriate for such purposes.

The construction list for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1950, will not be announced, therefore, until after Congress acts on the general appropriation bill now under consideration.

The C.A.A. estimated it would cost a total of $928,033,000 to carry out the entire three-year plan. Of this $445,888,000 would be in federal funds and $482,345,000 in funds to be put up by local sponsors.

Improvements are proposed at 36 airports at an estimated cost of $30,368,000. The federal share would be $14,320,000, and the sponsor's $15,988,000.

Windingstad, who has conducted some of the most famous orchestras in the world, including the New York Philharmonic and the N.B.C. Symphony, played Grieg's piano sonata in four movements, his "Dance of the Elf," "Wedding March" and the "A Minor Concerto."

Dances, Two-Piano Works, and Readings Presented by Musical Society Members

An audience of approximately 80 members and guests attended a "Guest Night" program by the Musical Society last night with members of the society presenting a series of two-piano numbers, two dances, and a reading. The program was held in the assembly hall of the First Baptist Church.

Especially well done was the Duetino Concertante of Mozart, played by Miss Lucinda Merritt and Mrs. LeRoy Vogt.

The two dances, by Mrs. Bertrand Bishop and Mrs. Kenneth Hickok, added variety to the program. They were used as intermezzi, as in the early days of the ballet.

The first dance was a courtly "Bourree" with Mrs. Hickok dressed in a pink gown with a tall pointed hat of the court period. Mrs. Bishop, as her dancing partner wore a man's brown costume with a cape.

The second dance was "Le Chapeau," a quaint portrayal of a girl's inability to choose between a fancy new spring bonnet and her beau. Mrs. Hickok wore a long green gown with a white yoke, and Mrs. Bishop was dashing as the beau, wearing a black suit with a large red bow tie, with polka dot and a red beret. The hat, by question was a white flowered affair with green veiling and black ribbons, and the indecisive belle eventually chose both hat and beau.

Two piano numbers on the program—all of them enthusiastically received—were, in addition to the Mozart:

Allegro (Italian Concerto), Bach transcribed by Bauer, and Sheep May Safely Graze, Bach transcribed by Mary Howe, played by Mrs. W. S. Elling and Mrs. William Ryalance.

The familiar Kamennoi-Ostrov of Rubenstein, played by the Misses Jane and Ethel Mauterstock.

Romance (Suite 1) of Aravsky, and Turkish March, Beethoven, played by Mrs. Willard Burke and Mrs. Henry Milonig.

Habanera de China, a Spanish folk tune arranged by Mary Howe.

Planned Parenthood Center Has Uncovered Many Health Conditions, Group Announces

The Ulster County Committee for Planned Parenthood announced today that its Maternal Health Center, 578 Broadway, in addition to giving instruction in planning families, has discovered many health conditions which have been referred to doctors for treatment and others which have been given hospitalization through a fund set up by one of the doctors.

The announcement was made after the regular monthly board meeting of the committee, when reports were given on the results of the annual drive for funds to maintain the center.

The committee believes its program constitutes a vital and essential step toward the strengthening of the family and community life, the announcement said.

Didn't Want Husband, Just Her Bowling Ball

Los Angeles, May 11 (AP)—Mrs. Shirley Losey didn't want her husband back but she did want her bowling ball.

The ball was returned to her in court yesterday. But some changes have been made. It was partially squared on one side and the holes were filled with lead.

Mrs. Losey 26, in seeking a divorce, hailed her husband into court for him to explain why he hadn't complied with an order to produce her prized bowling ball.

Husband Glenn C. Losey 46, appeared with the ball and handed it over to her. He insisted that he didn't know how it got in its peculiar condition. Charges of contempt of court against him were dropped.

Woodstock Woman Is Life Member in S.P.C.A.

Mrs. Katherine Burgevin of Woodstock is the first person to take a life membership in the re-activated Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. It was announced today by Eugene A. Chilson, special agent.
Mrs. Burgevin was signed for life membership by Bill Stach. He is Dr. Harold Clarke, veterinarian, of 107 Hurley avenue.

couldn't have stood that," the widow said.
Dr. Harold Benson, 25, worn out by perilous trips down the well shaft during 26 hours to administer to the tortured victim, said "I thought he was going to make it. His courage and endurance were beyond belief."

Died of Exhaustion
The doctor said Atleo apparently died of exhaustion and shock. An autopsy was planned for today.

The tunneling rescue workers had reached Atleo's side at 1:10 p. m. (E.S.T.) and started to extricate him. He died at approximately 2:40 p. m.
Atleo, a contractor, had been digging the well under the garage seeking water for washing automobiles. Use of city water for that purpose is banned during the current shortage.
A cave-in trapped him early Tuesday afternoon. And he was badly burned later in flames when a lighted cigarette lowered to him came in contact with oxygen being pumped down the shaft.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 11 (AP)—The credentials committee of the C.I.O. Steelworkers Union has refused to seat a delegate to its convention, on the ground "he is a consistent follower of the Communist Party line." William Donovan of Cleveland, chairman of the committee, said he will report the action on the floor of the convention today. Donovan said the delegate is Charles Fizer, 38, of Hammond, Ind. Fizer was a member of a 13-man delegation from Local 101 of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube plant at Indiana Harbor. He is secretary-treasurer. David MacDonald of the steelworkers said the union "is pretty much free of Communists—this looks like a plant to me." Fizer, a past president and former secretary of Local 101 told a reporter: "I haven't done a thing in line with being a consistent supporter of the Communist Party. I joined the party of my own volition and dropped out four years ago. I've been a member of the union longer than some of the staff officers."
